WOMAN POSTMASTER PUT OUT

SHE RELIED ON OFFICE TO SUP-PORT TEN CHILDREN.

Credit of the "Victory" Is Senator De-bee's of Kentucky—Gritty Little Wom-an Had Secured Promises in Washing-ton That She Would Not Be Disturbed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Senator Deboe of Kentucky, the only Republican Senator from the South, with the exception of the Maryland Senators, has won a stubborn fight before the Post Office Department. His antagonist was a widow, but she was backed by ten children who depend on her for support, and by the belief that if she lost her fight she and her children would have to face starvation. Under these cir-cumstances the widow fought hard and long, but Senator Deboe, with the Republican organization of Kentucky behind him, won the fight, and to-day Mrs. Gertrude Saunders was removed from the Postmastership of Newcastle, Ky. James P. Gray was appointed in her place.

Chivalry played no part in the warfare on Mrs. Saunders. Her husband, a steadfast Republican, died several years ago. He was appointed Postmaster under President Harrison and when he died he left to his widow the task of bringing up the family of ten children.

She was appointed to succeed her husband, and when President Cleveland came in she was allowed to remain undisturbed. Through the first McKinley Administration she still clung to the office. During all this time there were no charges against her; the administration of the Newcastle Post Office was satisfactory to all its patrons but one, a dentist named Gray. Mr. Gray's dissatisfaction arose from the fact that he was a voter, a member of the Republican County Committee of Henry county, Ky., and he thought the Newcastle mail should be handled by himself instead of by Mrs. The Henry County Republican Committee

The Henry County Republican Committee is an organization unique in politics, even in Kentucky politics. It is composed of fifteen members, of whom ten are postmasters in that county. Gray was one of the five who were not postmasters. When a candidate for Post Office in such a county as Henry files his papers the matter is usually referred to the County Committee. Therefore, it was easy for the Henry County Committee, every time a Post Office became vacant, to indorse one of their own circle for the office, and they have done so regularly. So, when Mr. Gray became a candidate he had behind him ten postmasters of Henry county, as well as the whole Republican Committee, while Mrs. Saunders had nothing but the good will of the patrons of her office.

publican Committee, while Mrs. Saunders had nothing but the good will of the patrons of her office.

Last June Senator Deboe and a party from Henry county came to Washington for the purpose of ousting Mrs. Saunders and installing Mr. Gray. They announced that they intended to stay in Washington until Mrs. Saunders should be superseded. A day or two later Mrs. Saunders appeared, small and pale, but gritty and determined. She besieged the offices of the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, the Postmaster-General and even the President, until she had secured an audience with each and explained her case. She returned to Kentucky with the assurance that she had excited the compassion and secured the support of all these high officials and that she should remain in office.

That was in the latter part of June. The excitement died out. The postmasters returned without Mrs. Saunders's scalp.

To-day Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow caused some surprise by announcing her dismissal and the appointment of Dentist Gray.

The office pays $60 a month and will allow the new postmaster time to attend to his regular business.

Klendike Gold Output $20,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.-United States Consul McCook at Dawson City writes to

The gold output will, it is said, fall short of the estimate made earlier in the year, one reason being the long winter. I think $20,000,000 a fair estimate for this year's prod-$20,000,000 a largestimate for this year's product. Many of the richest claims have not yielded as much this season as formerly. While there is a very large gold-bearing area in this territory, the miners must learn to work more economically.

"On the Hootalinqua River and at other points there are good indications, but the prospectors will not go there yet, as the grounds are too far away from a base of supplies."

Dunne also asks that a temporary receiver be appointed for the firm of Dunne, Ryley & Fisher, in which, he asserts, he holds a quarter interest.

In his application for an injunction Dunne

In his application for an injunction Dunne asserts that after Fisher, who comes from San Francisco, was taken into the firm—known before that as Dunne & Ryley—he, Dune, was shunted off with road companies, and that Ryley and Fisher ran "Florodora" at the Casino, using incidentally $4,500 which he had borrowed to launch the show. When Dunne came back here on May 17 he says he found that Ryley and Fisher had taken his name off the sign, and Ryley told him that he didn't have desk room with them any more. He also says that he demanded an accounting, but didn't get it.

Dunne asserts that "Florodora" has cleared $123,000 up to date, and that "experts" have predicted that it will clear $300,000 on the road in the coming year. In one week, he says, $16,000 were taken in, and the average receipts are $10,000 a week. The Sire brothers, according to Dunne, got 50 per cent. of the gross receipts until $5,000 was cleared, and after that, by the terms of the contract, got 40 per cent. the contract, got 40 per cent

FEMALE CONVERSATIONALISTS. Hoboken Wont Let Them Do Business Any More-One Sent to Jail.

"She is too conversationed—I'll keep her at Snake Hill for fitteen days."

Conversationalist (Hobokenese)—One who is conversationed; who can speak with her eyes through the crack between the swingdoors of a Hoboken saloon to a man to whom she has not been introduced; who can draw beer; a saloonkeeper's adopted daughter;
formerly a barmaid.

These definitions may be printed as an appendix to the laws and ordinances of 1901 of the City Council of Hoboken to explain an act entitled "An act to amend the act relative to saloons and bar maids."

This act went into effect at the same time they reduced the number of saloons, so that now there is only one saloon to every 188 inhabitants while before each little group of 181 citizens could have a saloon all to themselves. However, the saloons tician of the Morning and Evening Thirst has published in a recent Sunday edition diagrams of floor areas and bar lengths together with figures showing that on any jubilee occasion all the men, women and children could be accommodated in the tunnels at the same moment and that the serving of steins to all of the 60,000 inhabitants might be accomplished in such short time that by the time the first drinkers were calling for more the last would be just about blowing away the foam.

But it was another section of the act that had to do with conversationalists-"female conversationalists," to use the exact language of the law. The law is that no woman shall be employed to tend bars and that no "female conversation-alists" shall be engaged to sit in barrooms to attract customers. This law was suggested by the saloon men themselves when they realized that if they didn't do something the reformers would. But the Saloonkeeper-law framers made provision for the future. They put in a clause to for the future. They put a saloonkeeper the effect that in rush hours a saloonkeeper might be assisted at the tap by his wife and daughter. Since then the best town in the country for our orphan girl, young or otherwise, to go to for adoption, has been Hoboken.

A young woman charged with being a "female conversationalist" was arrested over there the other day. It was the first case under the new law.

"Save me, papa, save me!" exclaimed the prisoner to the saloonkeeper.

"Your Honor, spare my child!" said the saloonkeeper to the Judge.

"She hasn't the family look," said the Judge. "Have you the adoption papers in court?"

"No, your Honor," said the saloon man, fumbling in his pockets. "May I have time to get the evidence?"
"No," thundered the Court. "The evidence is overwhelming that this woman has wilfully and persistently conversa-tioned. In spite of her age I believe her to be an habitual conversationalist and I must send her to jail." The conversationalist got fifteen days and the saloonkeeper retired weeping.

BISHOP LITTLEJOHN BURIED.

TEN BISHOPS TAKE PART IN THE FUNERAL SERVICES.

The Cathedral at Garden City Crowded With Clergy and Laymen—An Impressive Funeral Procession—Interment in All Saints' Graveyard at Great Neck, L. I.

The funeral of the Right Rev. Abram Newkirk Littlejohn, Bishop of Long Island, was held in the Cathedral of the Incarnation in Garden City yesterday morning. Conforming to the wishes of the family there was neither sermon nor eulogy, the regular church service being used alone. The Cathedral was crowded, chairs being used in the aisles and many persons standing in the rear. Flowers were banked around the altar and several floral pieces stood inside the rail.

The services began at 8 o'clock in the morning when the purple covered casket draped with the Episcopal robes of the late Bishop and carried by six of the family servants was taken from the private mortuary chapel in the See House to the centre aisle of the cathedral. Holy communion was then celebrated by Dean Samuel Cox of the cathedral assisted by Canon H. B.

of the cathedral assisted by Canon H. B.
Bryan, Archdeacon of Queens and Nassau counties. The throng then viewed the body and at 10 o'clock the casket was again closed and carried to the tower of the vestibule directly in front of the main entrance where it remained until 10:30, when the actual funeral ceremonies began.

The funeral procession was formed in the crypt of the cathedral. It was led by the choir, who proceeded to the body of the church without music, followed by the vested clergy and after them, attired in their episcopal robes, followed Bishops Potter of Manhattan, Walker of western New York, Gallor of Tennessee, Worthington of Nebraska, Brewster of Connecticut, Weed of Florida, Dudley of Kentucky, Coleman of Delaware, Satterlee of Washington and Johnston of western Texas. Following the episcopal procession came Washington and Johnston of western Texas. Following the episcopal procession came the pallbearers, Alexander E. Orr, H. H. Cammann, A. N. Weller, Col. W. S. Cogswell, August Belmont, Wilhemus Mynderse and the Rev. Spencer S. Roche, Mr. Pfleging verger of the cathedral; the Rev. H. B. Bryan, acting as chaplain and carrying the Bishop's pastoral staff. Then came the casket followed by the mourners. When the chancel rail was reached the Bishops and the Rev. Dr. H. C. THINKS CLEVELAND HIT HIM. Man Who Wants $100,000 Damages From Ex-President Sent to Bellevue.

Several semi-incoherent letters have been received recently by the clerks in the Ewen street police court, Brooklyn, bearing the signature of M. B. Schillinger, 275 Bowery, in which the writer announced that he had been brutally assaulted with a bottle by Grover Cleveland and had brought suit against the former President for $100,000.

The letters were turned over to Capt. Titus and he detailed Detective Firneiser to find the writer, which he did yesterday afternoon in a lodging house at 10 Rivington street. Schillinger, who is middle aged, with a bald head, admitted writing the letters and appeared to be rational on other topics. "Yes," he said to the detective,
"Grover Cleveland played a mean trick

It will give the largest reserve force the Department has ever had, and there will be more men on post duty than ever before. The system has been so arranged that the men en post will almost be in sight of each other day and night. When it is inaugurated, people will wonder why it has not been thought of before." Then Col. Murphy appointed twenty-five new cops from the top of the eligible list.

NEWPORT SOCIAL EVENTS. Mrs. F. W. Vanderbilt Entertains King's

Daughters-The Day's Dinners. NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 7 .- It rained most of the day in Newport, greatly interfering with events out of doors. The chief social event of the day was the reception given by Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt at "Rough Point" in honor of the members of "Whomsoever Circle" of King's Daughters. Mrs.

Vanderbilt had music and refreshments for the young women, the circle being composed mostly of Newport residents. Mrs. William T. Bull gave a musicale at Dudley Place," at which Heath Gregory, the baritone, sang. An afternoon reception was also given by Mrs. Charles Childs. This evening a dinner was given by Mrs.

This evening a dinner was given by Mrs. John R. Drexel, followed by a musicale, at which Mr. Gregory and Miss Booker sang. Mrs. I. Townsend Burden also entertained at dinner.

It is now said that the wedding of Miss Lily Oelrichs to Peter D. Martin will take place at Newport on Aug. 29.

Mrs. Edward F. Rook has sublet the Chandler Villa to Mrs. George T. Bliss of New York, for the remainder of the season. Mr. and Mrs. J. Nielson Howard, formerly Miss Edith Rook, have returned from their wedding trip, and are the guests of Mr. Howard's mother. Howard's mother.

MAY TRY SCANNELL THIS MONTH, But Probably Not Until September-August Criminal Term of Supreme Court. District Attorney Philbin announced yesterday that the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court had granted his request for a special term of the Court for August and that Justice Gildersleeve would preside. The case of Fire Commissioner John Jscannell, who was indicted by the Grand Jury for conspiracy to defraud the city, neglect of duty, and, under the provisions of the Charter for committing a fraud upon the city, will come up for pleading on Mon-day next. It is expected that the defence day next. It is expected that the defence will file a demurrer, and in that case a de-cision will probably not be reached until Several murder cases which have long been pending will also come up before the special August term. BOGUS AD. MAKES TROUBLE. Thirty Women Who Answered It Ate Grocer's Fruit and Cheese.

An advertisement in a morning paper yesterday that Henry Behnken, a grocer of 92 South Eighth street, Williamsburg, wanted a young lady to act as cashier at a salary of $10 a week brought about thirty women to the store bright and early. Behnken endeavored to convince them that he ken endeavored to convince them that he had not advertised for a cashier, but the young women would not listen to him. Behnken was finally compelled to leave his store and during his absence the women feasted on fruits and cheese sandwiches. After remaining in his store for more than two hours they left. One of the women lived in Jamaica, L. I., another in Garden City, L. I. and one in 185th street The Broad City, L. I ,and one in 185th street, The Bronx The advertisement was a joke

BROKE ON HIS HONEYMOON. Broker Lee's Inconsiderate Women Customers Went Back on Him. Schedules in the assignment of John T. Lee, stock broker, of 52 Broadway show liabilities, $70,293; nominal assets, show liabilities, $70,293; nominal assets, $73,904, and actual assets, $5,906. The assignment was filed on May 9 last by Mr. Lee's representative, Mr. Lee being at that time in Europe on his wedding trip. This brief summary gives the failure an air of "begone, dull care," which it did not really wear. It was the Northern Pacific corner panic that knocked out Mr. Lee, and it was said at the time of his failure that the failure of customers, chiefly women. that the failure of customers, chiefly women, to respond to calls for more margin, ac-counts for the considerable preponderance of his liabilities.

SHE IS LOOKING FOR THE MAJOR. Says He Gave Her a Marriage Certificate to Show to the Pelks.

A young woman who said she was Belle Schmitt of 235 West Twenty-third street, got a warrant on Tuesday from Magistrate Naumer in the Adams street court in Brooklyn for the arrest of her alleged husband on a charge of abandonment. The name of the latter was not Schmitt and the woman explained that she had assumed her maiden name after his desertion. She described him as a West Point graduate and a retired "Major" of the Regular army, who had recently been lecturing on the war in Cuba and the Philippines. They were married, she said, in Newark, N. J., about a year ago, shortly after they became acquainted at a ball in Manhattan. A court officer went around with the warrant to a little furnished room in Adams street, where the runaway "Major" was said to live, but did not find him there, and it is believed that he heard of the court proceedings and took to flight. The Schmitt woman paid another visit to the Adams street court yesterday and admitted that her marriage to the "Major" consisted simply in his presenting to her a marriage certificate with both their names written on it, so that she could show it to her who had recently been lecturing on the mother and other relatives. The court office is still looking for the missing "Major," armed with a brooch, in which there is his photograph in military uniform, presented to Belle after their unceremonial marriage.
